ABOUT Andi Fisher

Andi is a professional marketer by day managing an advocacy program for Red Hat. Her other passion is Misadventures with Andi. She is a focused brand ambassador, travel and lifestyle blogger who loves to play tourist. A true foodie, a lot of her travel focuses on the local food scene. Slow travel is her jam. Since spending 18 months on the road living in an RV, she has a new appreciation for the outdoors and the national and state park system and absolutely loves the American Southwest.
