For more than 12 years, Misadventures with Andi has expertly combined travel, food, French culture, and fun into a lifestyle blog that brands have love to work with!

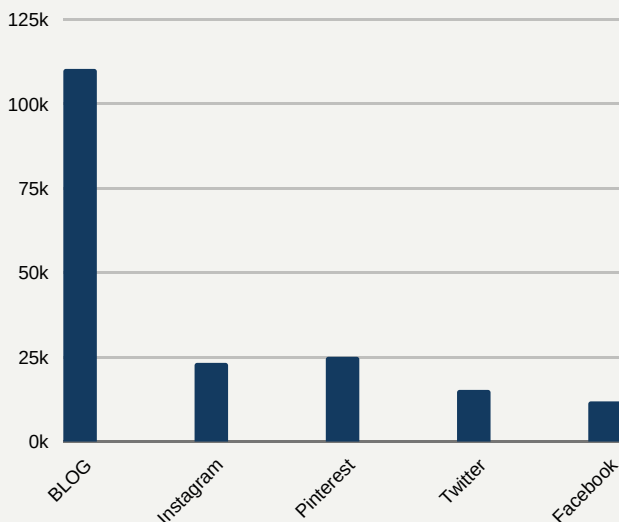

ABOUT

Andi is a professional marketer by day managing an advocacy program for Red Hat. Her other passion is Misadventures with Andi. She is a focused brand ambassador, travel, and lifestyle blogger who loves to play tourist. A true foodie, a lot of her travel focuses on the local food scene. Slow travel is her jam. Since spending 18 months on the road living in an RV, she has a new appreciation for the outdoors. Her superpower is her POSITIVITY.
